PAYETTE—An area resident has pleaded guilty to two counts of felony lewd conduct with a minor under age 16 in Idaho 3rd District Court in Payette. Douglas Lee Higley, 47, entered the pleas Friday before Judge Wayne P. Fuller.

Higley is currently employed as a baker for D'Alessandro's in Elko, Nev., but said he regularly commutes between work and Payette where his wife and four children reside.

He is accused of sexually touching a minor child during the summer of 1985.

Higley told the court he has voluntarily sought help and counseling through the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and a private therapist.

He said he was doing all that he can to cooperate and make amends. He said he believes the victim is also receiving counseling.

Fuller set sentencing for Nov. 27, allowing Higley to remain free on his own recognizance with special conditions to have no contact with the alleged victim.

Payette County Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Greg Frates asked that Higley not be allowed any unsupervised contact with minors. Fuller said he would follow the recommendations made by Higley's counselors.

If convicted, Higley faces a maximum term of life in prison and a fine of $5,000 or both.

national drug trafficking rings with increased attention to anarist middle men, such as pilots, money launderers and couriers.

$300 million in additional economic and limited military aid to help Colombia, Peru and including the $65 million in emergency aid that Bush announced last month following a wave of assassinations in Colombia by drug lords.

Much of the criticism of the overall Bush plan is directed at the price tag, $7.8 billion, as well as the refusal of the administration to give military a more active role in the drug war.

more is needed to have a significant impact.

They are also upset that the Pentagon has not been fully enlisted in the battle. The Pentagon's only contribution in South America is now confined to helping provide training and advisers to Colombian, Bolivian
